Helms Has Gone Curious

Dr. Joe Helms has followed in the footsteps of his professors: During the past two years he has converted the majority of his clinical treatments to curious meridian patterns. Based on this recent redirection, Dr. Helms has concluded that the curious meridian system is effective as the energetic component when treating functional, organic, and musculoskeletal problems.

This weekend program is dedicated to exposing seasoned physician acupuncturists to the principles and practice of this elegant therapy. The program is open only to serious physician acupuncturists with two or more years of solid clinical experience in medical acupuncture, whether in general medical or pain management practice.

Goals

Upon successful completion of this continuing medical education activity you will have:

- A clear intellectual foundation of the history and theory of the curious meridian system;
- A clinical experience of the eight curious meridian pulses and their application to diagnosis and treatment;
- An appreciation of the appropriate clinical applications of curious meridians;
- The skill to immediately initiate diagnosis and therapy using this system.

CME Sponsor

The Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education accredits the Helms Medical Institute to sponsor continuing medical education for physicians.

Accreditation

Helms Medical Institute designates the workshop activity for a maximum of 17 hours of AMA PRA Category 1 credits™. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Video Preparation

You are required to watch two hours of video material and to review printed handouts prior to arriving at the workshop. The DVD will be provided to you upon receipt of your registration and tuition for the program.

Tuition and Fees

$600 tuition for Ohio chapter and AAMA members if payment is received 30 days prior to the event. ($650 after 1 February 2008.) $650 tuition for AAMA members if payment is received 30 days prior to the event. ($700 after 1 February 2008.) $700 tuition for non-AAMA members if payment is received 30 days prior to the event. ($750 after 1 February 2008.)

Refunds

Helms Medical Institute reserves the right to cancel the course and to change the dates of venue, in which case you may receive a full refund. A minimum service charge of $50 is withheld from all other refunds. Refund requests must be in writing and postmarked one week prior to the advanced workshop weekend, after which time there is no refund.

"I have been using the curious meridians every working day since I took Joe's workshop. I got such a thrill the first day when my first CM pulse settled into a silky smooth pattern. I had never felt a change like that before, and the thrill keeps coming because it's happening every time! And patients get so relaxed and seem to get better faster. Thanks for something new and exciting and extremely cool."

- Sandy Skates, D.O., 1994 HMI Graduate

DISCLOSURE As mandated by the ACCME, all faculty participating in continuing medical education activities sponsored by the Helms Medical Institute are required to disclose to the audience any real or apparent conflict of interest related to the content of their presentation, as well as any discussions of the use of unapproved/unlabelled drugs or devices. HMI faculty also have formally agreed to announce the level of evidence upon which any clinically directed instruction is based. The names of faculty members declaring a potential conflict of interest will be shown in the syllabus.
